PAT THE DOG PLAYWRIGHT CENTRE PRESENTS

PLAYSMELTER

4 plays, 4 playwrights, 26 actors.

PlaySmelter is a reading series of new work, written on, inspired by, or grounded in the black rocks of Sudbury.

Just two weeks ago, we rolled up our sleeves and plunged into these raw materials, putting the text to the test. I'm so proud of the work Rick, Lara and Cora have done, and glad to have Emil Sher accompanying them.

What you're seeing is not a polished piece but a snapshot of this journey, an exciting look at four works-in-progress.

The development of a new play in Canada can seem like a clandestine process. PlaySmelter gives us the rare opportunity to throw open the factory doors and let you experience these raw works in all their gory glory.

Live theatre cannot exist without the collaboration of an audience. Whether you join us in our discussions, or just lend us your reaction and attention, your presence is vital. Just by being here, you are participating in the creation of a new play.

Something exciting is happening here in Sudbury. A series of this kind is a first for our city. Our stories and voices demand a stage.

Thank you for joining us.

LISA O'CONNELL

artistic director, Pat the Dog Playwright Centre

What you are experiencing tonight is the culmination of a dream.

Several dreams, actually.

For the playwright it begins with an idea and the strong desire to share a story. For the actors and directors it's the desire to take those words and make them come alive. For us at Pat the Dog Playwright Centre it's a longing to see local stories on local stages.

We've always known that Sudbury is a special hub of creativity, so we're excited to present PlaySmelter – our first ever playwright reading week. From May 9 to 12, four new plays will be given their first readings in front of a live audience. Award-winning playwright, Emil Sher, will join local artists Rick Duthie, Cora Eckert and Lara Bradley. These readings represent more than two years of work alongside these playwrights.

It can take between one to ten years to create a play. Unlike writers of prose, playwrights write words meant to be spoken, so before rewrites can be undertaken, the playwright needs to hear their text spoken. They need actors to animate it. They need a director to imagine the space of the play and they need a dramaturge to serve as both editor and guide. The process of creation is long and often messy. It takes a dedicated team to make this happen. The final element is the audience.

Tonight, we invite you to come and work with us in this essential step in the process of theatre creation.

Thank you for being here tonight to help nurture these exciting new and local voices. You're helping us all realize our dreams.

DANIEL AUBIN / actor

Daniel is Greater Sudbury's Poet Laureate. He recently launched his second book of poems, Néologismes, with les Éditions Prise de parole. Daniel currently works as the communications officer for la Galerie du Nouvel-Ontario and writes about arts and culture for Le Voyageur newspaper. As an actor, he's played in productions with le Théâtre du Nouvel-Ontario, Collectif FFF and Théâtre la catapulte. He recently appeared as Vlad in Encore Theatre's production of Lenin's Embalmers.

NICOLAS BARBEAU / actor

Nick studied Thorneloe University and is a founding artist of the Encore Theatre Company. AT ENCORE: Krasin in Lenin's

Embalmers, Carl in Down Dangerous Passes Road. OTHER: Silvius in As You Like It, Demetrius in A Midsummer Night's Dream, James in Book of Days, Romeo (Thorneloe), Mortimer in Buncha Munsch (STC).

LARA BRADLEY / playwright

Lara is a former reporter with the Sudbury star, now turned communication officer. She is eternally grateful to Matt Heiti, Lisa O'Connell, and Pat the dog for all their help and incredible kindness over the past year. Also Lara owes a gigantic debt to the talented actors who shared their brilliant ideas and questions with her during the workshop. Slainté!

SCOTTY CUMMINGS / actor

Scotty is a Sudbury-born actor who recently graduated from the Theatre Arts program at Thorneloe University. He has played the character Clive in Cloud Nine, Satan in The Last Days Of Judas Iscariot, and has performed in multiple staged reading for the Encore Theatre company. Scotty is looking forward to working with Pat the Dog.

MIRIAM CUSSON / actor

Miriam is an actor, writer and director. She is presently Co-Artistic Director of les Productions Roches brûlées, literary advisor for les Éditions Prise de parole and lecturer for Laurentian University's francophone theatre program. Miriam is also Associate Artistic Director for the Manitoulin Conservatory for Creation and Performance as well as a resident artist with the Musagetes Foundation.

MARIE-JOSEE DIONNE / actor

A recent graduate of the four year French Theatre Program at Laurentian University, Marie-Josée Dionne has been performing theatre for nine years. Her passion is acting, but she has also worked as director, stage manager and acting teacher and coach in the Sudbury area.

JOCELYN DOTTA / actor

Jocelyn is a native of Sudbury and a graduate of Laurentian University. She is a founding member of Encore Theatre Company and active in the theatre arts scene of Sudbury. She has been a part of many productions with several different companies, including Encore Theatre Company, Thorneloe Theatre Arts and Theatre Cambrian. Most recently she portrayed the Nadias in Encore Theatre Company's production of Lenin's Embalmers.

RICK DUTHIE / playwright

Rick is loving this recent return to Sudbury. He left with aspirations of an acting adventure, and is now honored that Pat the Dog has facilitated the workshop for his play What Struck in '58. He is originally from Sudbury and is excited to continue making theatre in this community.

CORA ECKERT / playwright

Cora Eckert is Sudbury born and raised. A BFA graduate of Laurentian University, Eckert was a participant in 2012's inaugural Playwrights'

Junction with the STC. She will be continuing her theatre education by taking Theatre Production at Cambrian College and hopes to continue pushing the boundaries of Canadian theatre.

NATALIE ELLIS / actor

Natalie has been involved in the performing arts for over ten years. Whether it is on stage acting, singing, or back stage doing set design and costuming.

Always looking to expand her skills in the creative world, she most recently devoted her energies as a stage manager for the Classical Music Conservatory, an endeavor she is still actively involved in.

MICHAEL EMOND / actor

Michael got started in theatre because his therapist said he had too much self-esteem and needed more rejection in his life. His previous roles range from the Alice's Mad Hatter to Hamlet's Claudius. He is a proud member of the Sudbury Comedy Scene which can be found on Facebooks everywhere.

CARINA GASPAR / dramaturgical associate, Pat the Dog

Carina completed her Masters in Theatre Studies at York University, as well as a Dramaturgical and New Play Development internship at Nightwood Theatre. Oh, and she's a clown. She's trained with Lecoq masters Theatre Smith-Gilmour and Leah Cherniak, while also calling John Turner of clown duo Mump and Smoot her clown papa.

COLIN HAYWARD / actor

Colin has worked as a theatre professor, actor, director, lighting designer, pyro tech and writer. The stories in Other Times Other Places, his last book, were called "microcosms of the human condition" in Prairie Fire. Recipient of a Professional Writer's Award, Colin has just finished Dark Enough to Dance, due out in October.

JENNY HAZELTON / actor

Jenny is a professor of Acting and Mime at Laurentian University and a founding member of Encore Theatre Company in Sudbury, Ontario. She attended Ecole International de Theatre Jacques Lecoq and has trained in Berlin with Russian master Gennadi Bogdanov in Meyerhold's system of Biomechanics. In the last 3 years she has continued her training in Clown with John Turner of Canada's Horror Clown Duo Mump and Smoot. Aside from performing, Jenny is a playwright, puppeteer, director, and designer.

WILLIAM HIMSL / actor

A Dramatic/Vocal graduate of Sudbury Secondary. Will is a miner by trade but a singer, and producer when not underground. It is his great pleasure that he returns to the stage with former classmates and new talents as well.

MATTHEW HEITI / dramaturge, Pat the Dog

Matthew's plays have been workshoped and produced across the country. He is a Genie-nominated screenwriter and his novel, The City Still Breathing, will be published by Coach House this fall. In July, he will direct Encore Theatre Company's production of The Monument, and his play Mucking in the Drift will premiere at STC in October.

FRANCE HUOT / actor

France is a graduate student from the Arts d'expression program at Laurentian University. Since the completion of her schooling, she has worked on local productions such as the Imagination Project with ElleQ Dance Factory; as the solo performer in Alphonse; and most recently in the ensemble of Lenin's Embalmers with Encore Theatre Company.

WARREN MACAULAY / actor

Warren is an acting student at George Brown College in Toronto. Select theatre credits include The Optimists, School for Scandal, The London

Merchant and Three Sisters. This summer he will be appearing in Y.E.S. Theatre's local production of Jesus Christ Superstar. He is thrilled to be a part of this festival.

SCOTT MCDUGALL / actor

Scott was a founding member of the Unweeded Garden Theatre Company in Sudbury and graduated from the Sudbury Secondary School Performing Arts Program. Recently, he played Larry in Encore Theatre's Closer.

LUKE NORTON / actor

Luke fell in love with acting as a classics student at Thorneloe University, bringing Shakespeare's words to life and giddily playing one acts and one night stands in support of friends. He is a proud Sudburian, born in Falconbridge and is currently managing a mining safety and rescue company.

LISA O'CONNELL / artistic director, Pat the Dog

Lisa is the founder and Artistic Director of Pat the Dog Playwright Centre, the only playwright centre in Ontario open to both emerging and established playwrights. In addition to their office in Kitchener, Pat the Dog has an office in Sudbury to serve Northern Ontario playwrights. PTD playwrights' work has been presented at the Magnetic North Theatre Festival, SummerWorks, MT Space Theatre, Sudbury Theatre Centre, Theatre Aquarius, among others.

CALLAM RODYA / director

Founding artistic director of the Encore Theatre Co. (encoretheatre.ca), Cal wears many hats; when not acting or directing, he is a playwright, screenwriter, filmmaker, electronic music producer, graphic designer, and marketer. For Encore, he has directed the mainstages Lenin's Embalmers, Closer, and Down Dangerous Passes Road, as well as several readings. In July, he will star opposite his mother in Encore's The Monument directed by Matthew Heiti. www.callamrody.com

BILL SANDERS / actor

Bill Sanders has been working in the entertainment industry in Sudbury since 1985. He has acted for STC, Sudbury Little Theatre Guild, Thorneloe Players and has been a featured performer with Murder By Appointment for the last 15 years. Bill has been with Laurentian University for the past twenty years as a full time tech and it is that stability that allows him to pursue his true passion, Theatre, in any way shape or form.

EMIL SHER / playwright

Emil has written for young audiences and the once-were-young. His stage works include Derailed, Bluenose, Beneath the Banyan Tree, Mourning

Dove and his acclaimed adaptation of Hana's Suitcase. Current projects include a commissioned adaptation of Ian Brown's The Boy in the Moon and Omega, a new work in development with Roseneath Theatre. Emil has written the narrative for a children's ballet and created Breadbox Theatre to introduce school-age children to live drama. To learn more, please visit emilsher.com.

JUDI STRAUGHAN / director, actor

Judi has just finished directing her former student Matthew Heiti's powerful drama Black Dog: 4 vs the World at the Sudbury Theatre Centre. She is grateful for her many opportunities over the years: acting, directing and teaching theatre both at the secondary school and university level. She is honoured to be part of another former student Rick Duthie's exciting new work, What Struck in '58. She is learning so much from this formidable pair of former students! What a thrill!

PATRICIA TEDFORD / actor

Patricia is thrilled to be participating in PlaySmelter. Productions in Sudbury: Year of The Flood, Faith Healer, Shakespeare's Will and How It Works. Patricia teaches at Thorneloe University where she's directed Book of Days, Les Belles Soeurs, Hedda Gabler, Twelfth Night, As You Like It. and The Last Days of Judas Iscariot. Upcoming later this month: premiere production of Muskeg and Money, with North Road Theatre of which she is a founding member.

RON TOUGH / actor

Ron's been acting in Theatre, Film, and TV bridging two centuries, so he has been around a while in this business. Ron among many other pursuits was a development miner driving drifts and raises in Manitoba and in Northern Ontario. Being involved in development theatre work about mining is doubly gratifying.

GREGORY TREMBLAY / actor

Greg is usually involved in various aspects of the film industry. His work has been shown in many festivals and been nominated for awards. He worked on Mathew Heiti's world premiere of Black Dog vs. The World and played Stalin in Encore Theatre Company's recent production, Lenin's Embalmers.

KELSEY TYSON / actor

Kelsey is a 3rd year psychology student at Laurentian University. Her previous work includes Thorneloe's The Last Days of Judas Iscariot and Cloud 9

as well as YES Theatre's Spring Awakening and RENT. You can see her in YES Theatre's upcoming production of Jesus Christ Superstar, coming this August.

A PLAY BY COLLEEN WAGNER

STARRING VALERIE SENYK AND CALLAM RODYA DIRECTED BY MATTHEW HEITI

Winner of the 1996 Governor General's Literary Award, this profoundly affecting two-person drama reminds us of the faceless horror of war, and of the guilt which whole nations must carry on their shoulders. Wagner's play delves into the heart of man's inhumanity in war time.
